

262

Gallienius' general Pusillus rose in revolt. He was induced to make peace with his master (Gallienius)

Ephesus which had become an important center of Christianity was sacked
by Goths, 262.

AD 262

The City of Ephesus was sacked
by the Saracens and the Temple of Artemis (Diana) was destroyed

Shapur I the Great celebrated his victory over the Roman Army (including Germans & Goths) and its barbarian troops from east and west.

Paul, bishop of SAMOSATA, denies the divinity of Jesus Christ.